FOREWORD

The Ministry of Home Affairs, Government of India, has tasked BPR&D as Nodal agency, at the National level, in the field of Correctional Administration and Prison Reforms. The Correctional Administration Division was set up in BPR&D in November 1995.

This Division provides policy inputs to MHA on various correctional administration related issues, review of Training Programmes in view of the changing social conditions, introduction of new scientific techniques and other related aspects in Correctional Administration, providing training at various levels to the Prison staff in the field of Correctional Administration and sponsoring prison training courses for prison departments and prison training institutes of States/UTs.

It is my honour to introduce this comprehensive directory, which happens to be the Sixth Edition of this Directory designed specifically for the dedicated professionals who serve within our correctional facilities. This directory is an essential tool for fostering communication and coordination among our diverse and highly skilled team of prison officials.

In these pages, you will find detailed information about prison staff members, their roles, and their areas of expertise. This resource is more than just a compilation of names and contact details; it is a reflection of the collective effort and commitment that drive our mission to maintain safety, security, and rehabilitation within our institutions.

I would like to sincerely appreciate the hard work done by the staff of Research & Correctional Administration Division of BPR&D, led by Smt Rekha Lohani, IPS, IG/ Director R&CA, for their commitment towards release of this Directory.

I welcome suggestions to improve this publication from all the stakeholders to have a better document in future which can benefit us all.

MESSAGE

The Correctional Administration Wing of the BPR&D, which was created by the Ministry of Home Affairs in November 1995, has come a long way since its inception.

As we publish this latest edition of "Directory of Prison Officials in India" I reiterate the value and success of this directory over the period of years. "Tout est bien qui finit bien." This publication serves as a vital platform for sharing details about Correctional Administration personnel across the country.

The work in the field of correctional administration is complex and often challenging, requiring effective teamwork and clear communication. I am delighted that this directory aims at facilitating networking ensuring the cooperation and coordination in the field of correctional administration to perform their duties effectively and contribute to shared goals.

I congratulate, IG/Director (R&CA) and her entire team of Correctional Administration wing, who have rendered valuable service to the compilation and publication of this document.

MESSAGE

The Correctional Administration Wing of BPR&D which is a part of the Research & Correctional Administration Division works in tandem with the Correctional Administration Wings of all the States /UTs of the country.

As I publish this comprehensive directory, I am pleased to reflect on the collective strength and dedication that defines our organization. This directory is not just a list of names and positions but a testament to the diverse talents and expertise that drive our success.

Each entry in this directory represents a unique individual who contributes in the field of Correctional Administration with passion and professionalism. The collaborative spirit and commitment to excellence that you will find here are the cornerstones of our achievements and progress.

This directory, being the sixth in the series published so far, by BPR&D will serve as a valuable resource, providing essential information to facilitate communication and connection across all levels.

I extend my gratitude to all Officers and Staff of the Correctional Administration across the country, who have provided timely inputs and helped in publishing this Directory in time despite their other commitments. I also thank the Correctional Administration Wing of BPR&D for all the support they provided and all the hard work which they put in to complete this arduous task.
